

Entry-level analysts

E3-Modelling is looking for entry-level analysts to join its Energy Modelling Teams and contribute to the delivery of high-standing international consulting projects in the fields of energy, climate, and the economy.

Job functions

- Preparing data input and analyzing model outputs
- Use of modelling software GAMS, python, R

Qualifications

- BSc in applied mathematics, physics, economics, and/or engineering
- Proficient in English
- Basic programming skills
- Problem-solving and proactive attitude
- Proficient use of MS Office

What we offer

- Full-time employment
- Competitive salary in line with qualifications
- Opportunity to grow professionally in a fast-paced environment

How to apply

Please send your CV to the attention of Liza Thanassi at info@e3modelling.com including in the subject line “Entry-level Analyst”.

Deadline for Applications: Open until filled.