KIMATICA, a software company with active participation in the telecom sector is looking for a junior/intermediate level developer to assist on the optimization of existing products. The candidate will work remotely from home.

PRINCIPAL DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES:

1. Modify existing back end and/or front-end system
2. Write well designed, testable, efficient code by using best software development practice
3. Strong debugging and troubleshooting skills
4. Work remotely with team of developers and product owners

EDUCATION/LICENSE/CERTIFICATION:

Bachelor Degree preferably in computer science, engineering, physics/mathematics

QUALIFICATIONS:

General Skills: Problem solver that can make the extra step. Demonstrated excellent relationship skills, collaboration, positive attitude and friendly demeanor

Machine Skills: 1-3 years working experience in one of the following technologies in: C/C++

Language Skills: Demonstrated ability to communicate effectively orally and in writing in English, including excellent listening skills

Interested applicants should send their CV at natasha.karatza@kimatica.com