Dr. George Koutitas

George Koutitas (PhD) is a digital innovation enthusiast with a multi-cultural experience in Corporate, Entrepreneurial and Academic sectors in EU and USA. He holds more than 16 years of research and business experience. In 2018, George was the co-founder of Augmented Training Systems Inc, a state-of-the-art AR/VR platform that helps Cities improve the training of first responders and reduce cost for training. He has also served as visiting professor at University of Nicosia providing curriculum support for the world's first MSc in Metaverse. He is the inventor of 1 US non provisional patent in the AR/VR space and has published more than 60 scientific publications in peer reviewed journals, books and international conferences that received more than 1400 citations from the international scientific community (h_index=20).